You Will Need...

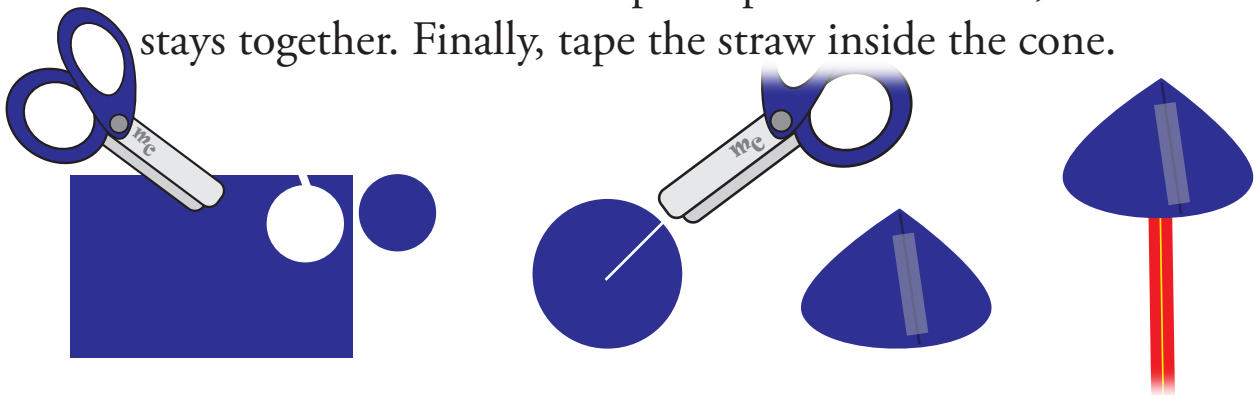

1.

Start cutting construction paper with scissors to fit and wrap around the toilet tissue tube. REMEMBER! Any time a child uses scissors, there must be an adult present. Securely tape the paper to the tube.

2.

Next, cut, with scissors, a circle out of construction paper. The circle should be just a little larger than the round end of the toilet tissue tube. Then, cut a line to about the middle of the circle and make a cone shape. Tape the two ends, so the cone stays together. Finally, tape the straw inside the cone.

3.

Then fringe, with scissors, a small piece of tissue paper and tape the fringed paper to one end of the tube (this is to simulate fire coming out of the firecracker).

4.

Finally, take the straw with the cone attached and put the straw through the toilet tissue tube. Take a little rubber/paper cement and glue the cone to the other end of the toilet tissue tube.
